Globally, many communities and households are now experiencing a Perfect Storm of threats: struggling economies, dangerously gyrating financial/commodity markets, deteriorating physical environments, concerns for the quality, cost, and possible shortages of water, food, healthcare, and other living essentials. They face security threats of all kinds as well as a growing social discontent and disorder around the world. Modern society seems to be on artificial life support. Time to Head for the Ark explains how people can live well despite the deteriorating economic and social circumstances of a society on life support. Author Sam Townsend calls it Abundant Living in Harm's Way - ALH Ways for short. Prepared ALH Ways living helps families, businesses, and communities enjoy abundant sustainable living in the local economies where people actually live. Sam, as a Recovering Banker who has found a better way, offers good news. He explains what Abundant Sustainable Living is, why it's the best way to live, why it is absolutely necessary. He explains how to gain and maintain it in its three key aspects: health, wealth management, and sustainable living success in local communities.
